In part 2 of a two-part interview, FIFA head producer Aaron McHardy previews the new control system, the introduction of new player touches, the new mechanic and more. ALSO READ: FIFA 20 Tips & Tricks - How to Master the New HyperMotion Technology On Fifa 22 Torrent Download's much-anticipated new control system: "We have a brand new control system that's very based on how the game is played at an elite level. In order to show and say it out loud, it's fully customizable. So it's very easy to bring in new targets for coaches, new for players and gives them so much more to play around with. So it's really about making the game play like a real football game. "For a long time, FIFA has really tried to make the game, and make it feel as much like a real football game as possible. We're a little bit more focused on how the game is played. What we want to do is take it to another level, take it to the absolute pinnacle of how football is played, and make the sport of football very accessible to all. "We want to make the gameplay more organic. We want to make the physics easier to learn and easier to play with, so people can start playing football. And with a game like FIFA, you play the game over and over and over again. It's highly repetitive. Over the last few years, we've been kind of removing the randomness of the game, by kind of letting players into the real game. So now we want to take that and sort of to the next level to make it easier for people to start playing." On the addition of new player touches: "People love the game and get a lot out of it. I think the one thing that is lacking in the game is a player touch. Something that we've talked about, and we're actively looking into. Obviously, it's something that people have been asking for. But it's a lot harder to do because of how popular the game is. And the very best players are using a hundred different weapons in games. But it was always something that we wanted to have. "You can't go anywhere without asking for an assist. That's always been something that we've wanted
